

The air waves belong to the public, not you. We want them back. I wish to keep this Country free. That means informative media, not homogenized. In order to keep a Country free, one has to learn how to decipher information. One has to be educated. We are not consumers for your propaganda. We are Human beings that deserve more respect..We are a Republic, not consumers for your corporate greed. If you do not serve the people of this Country you have lost the respect and trust of the people who own the air waves.
